

Public transports in Munich

In Munich there are many public transports. Many people have no cars and go anywhere with the public transports.

There are four different types of transports:

1. The S-bahn: it is a red train, and is just underground in the city center, and it goes a little bit further outside the city than the U-bahn.

3. The buses: they go where trains can't go a little bit overall in the city and outside.

2. The U-bahn: it's a blue train and is more in the city center. it's always underground

4. The trams: they are in the city center
